Clinical Trials Medicines- Do's and Don'ts

Don't

- DON'T leave medicines in places that are easily accessible to children or pets
- DON'T store medicine in a bathroom medicine cabinet where humidity and temperature changes can cause damage
- DON'T keep your medicines on or near a radiator or in direct sunlight
- DON'T decant your medicines into a dosette box or other compliance aid; it is important they are kept in the original container. If you need help organising your medicines, speak to your Research Nurse

Do

- DO keep medicine in a cool, dry place that is out of the reach of children, not on a radiator, in direct sunlight, or in a fridge or freezer (unless you are told the medicines need to be stored in this way)
- DO store medicine in its original container — the label on the bottle provides important information about the medicine, and the material used to make the bottle protects it from light
- DO keep your empty clinical trial medicine bottles/boxes; they are used to calculate important data and results for the trial you are participating in, and you need to return them to your research nurse

- DO take your medicines as you have been instructed to. If you have any questions or are unsure about how to take them, speak to your research nurse or the pharmacy clinical trials team
